Legion Band Off to Atlantic City

Members of the American Legion Quaker City Band were en route today to Atlantic City where the Ohio Championship aggregation will participate for the third time in national competition.

Others made the trip in private automobiles. Equipment was transported in the band's own truck.

The natty - attired bandmen, whose green and grey uniforms are familiar to most Salem citizens, will enter the national competition Saturday afternoon and a parade Monday. The band's total complement is 70, including majorettes Helen Copacia, Carol Debnar and Betsy Moore.

The Salem band, which was won Ohio Legion championships four successive years, beginning in 1954, was national runners-up in 1954 and '55. The bandmen share Director Chester Brautigam's hopes of winning top national laurels this time.

Police Armed With Stop-Gap Federal Order

Prohibits Any Interference With Integration

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—City officials armed Nashville police today with copies of a broad federal court order prohibiting any interference with school integration here.

Besides banning acts intended to keep Negroes out of racially mixed first-grade classes, the order specifically forbids boycotts of the newly integrated grammar schools. Six schools end their first week of integration today, after two days of surface calm.

U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller issued the temporary order Thursday at the request of city and school officials. They asked for it to bolster a police get-tough policy in dealing with racial flareups since 15 Negroes reported for classes along with about 2,000 white first-graders Monday. Miller ordered the integration.

The order is similar to one under which Northern segregationist John Kasper was twice convicted in last year's integration disturbances at Clinton, Tenn.

It also names Kasper, the Rev. John McCulloch, itinerant preacher from Albuquerque, N.M.; and 10 Nashville area residents as defendants. In addition, it strikes out broadly at "other persons now or hereafter in active concert with them"—that is, others who conspire with the named defendants.

Judge Miller has ordered a hearing Monday on whether to replace the stop-gap restrainer with a temporary injunction.

Mayor Ben West said city police will read the order to any crowds gathering "in front of or near the schools."

Kasper, released on $600 appeal bond from the city workhouse Thursday, promptly landed in Davidson County jail, where he is held without bond on a state charge of inciting to riot, based on his anti-integration speeches here.

He was sent to the workhouse after failing to pay a $200 fine on disorderly conduct, vagrancy and loitering charges.

McCulloch, who has preached to Kasper-led segregationist rallies, also was arrested Thursday night on the same city charges. He was held in city jail in lieu of $200 bond.

Whereabouts of the other defendants named in the injunction was not known.

Jury Acquits One In Bingo Case Trial

EAST LIVERPOOL — A jury of eight women and four men returned a verdict of not guilty in the first of two Municipal Court trials Thursday that may open the way for charity bingo here.

Vernon Barnes, a disabled World War I veteran, one of two men arrested in a police raid Aug. 10 on a Disabled American Veterans bingo game, was acquitted of a charge of playing a game for money.

The verdict was returned after 45 minutes' deliberation.

Barnes was arrested with Dennis Casey, DAV treasurer, who is charged with permitting use of a room for gambling. He is awaiting trial.

Barnes testified he was only "pretending to play bingo" when he saw police walk into the DVA Hall. He said he acted to "protect" women patrons from arrest.

He admitted he yelled "bingo" twice while police were there.

Donald Kelly, DAV bingo caller, testified he called "bingo" from the board, not from a card.

Ohio Bell Talks Still Deadlocked

6 a. m. Monday Set As Strike Deadline

CLEVELAND (AP)—With time running out on a Monday morning strike deadline, Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America are still bogged down in contract negotiations.

Federal mediators attempted to arrange a meeting Thursday but the company said more time was needed to study the situation. Another meeting was scheduled for 10 a.m. today.

No progress has been reported since Sunday, when the union rejected what the company said was its final offer.

A strike by 18,500 Ohio Bell employees, set for Sunday, was delayed to coincide with a threatened nationwide strike by CWA telephone installers negotiating with Western Electric Co. in New York.

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, has announced that 6 a.m. Monday was set for a walkout by installers and Ohio Bell workers if no agreement is reached. No progress was reported Thursday.

Local 4320 vice president, More than 2,000 Ohio Bell employees have already walked out over dissatisfaction with the negotiations.

At Youngstown, more than 100 operators and clerical workers left their jobs today to attend a union meeting and gave no indication when they would return.

A picket line was established at the Riverside Exchange, Ohio Bell's main exchange there.

"No contract, no work" signs were carried by pickets at company installations in Akron. About 75 per cent of the 1,800 Akron employees were reported off the job Thursday.

Some 1,400 operating personnel did not show up for work at Columbus. Picket lines were set up and strike director Robert Donahue, Local 420 vice president, said he would lead the picket.

Bereavement Sends Mother To Mental Hospital

Letter Recalls Tragic Death of Three Children

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A letter addressed to "Dear Mr. Motorist" arrived at the Mirror-News.

"I am not writing this to you to remind you all over again," the letter said, "but to all motorists because school again begins."

"I want to prevent the tragedy that we have shared together—a mother and you, Mr. Motorist."

"That day three sun-tanned little faces smiled as they waved me a happy goodbye and so importantly went on their way to school. I wanted to call them back to tell them how lonesome it would be."

"Mr. Motorist, I wanted to kiss them once more. . . . Then I saw you take that corner — tires screaming, car out of control."

"What was your hurry? Were you late for work? Were you angry at someone?"

"Surely not my three. I am sure you would not want to run your screaming tires over their happy faces intentionally, erasing forever the smiles they had for me."

"But, Mr. Motorist, children are very forgiving in life and — I'm sure — in death. They would feel that because of one tragic moment you are left to live over and over again how your love of speed took three lives."

"I don't hate you any more. I feel sorry for you. I can still see those smiling little faces as they wave me goodbye."

The letter was signed. Under the signature this postscript: "Another year. And once again your flowers arrive. They are beautiful. Thank you."

The newspaper sent reporter Charles Neiswander to investigate. He talked with a close friend of the letter writer. She told him the letter was written four years ago on the first anniversary of the tragedy. It was written but never intended to be mailed to the man who was driving the car. The friend sent the letter to the paper, which printed it Thursday.

The motorist? He still sends the mother flowers on each anniversary of the children's death.

And the mother? She couldn't write a letter now. For in her mind she still waves goodbye to the smiling faces of her children.

The tragedy was too much. She is in a mental hospital, hopelessly insane.

Syria Claims 'No Plans for Attack'

Hoffa Urges Renewal Now Of Investigation

Resumption After Teamster Convention Asked As Alternative

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa today asked the Senate Rackets Committee to either renew right away its public probe of his labor career or to delay it until after the coming Teamsters convention.

Hoffa, Midwest boss of the giant Teamsters Union, still is the front-running candidate to succeed Dave Beck as Teamsters president at the Sept. 30 Miami convention despite earlier disclosures before the Senate group.

The 44-year-old Hoffa has been charged before the committee with accepting money loans from employers and with associating with New York labor racketeer Johnny Dio.

George Fitzgerald, Hoffa's lawyer, wrote to Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) and other committee members asking that Hoffa either be recalled early next week or not until Oct. 10.

Fitzgerald said Hoffa would be busy constantly with convention business from Sept. 18 to Oct. 10. He noted also that Hoffa must appear in New York Sept. 23 to answer to a wiretapping conspiracy indictment.

Hoffa's request apparently was prompted by comments made by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy in Detroit earlier this week. Kennedy said that a hunt with a dozen committee staff investigators in Hoffa's home town had been worthwhile and had produced fresh evidence. He added he felt the material warranted new hearings prior to the Teamsters convention.

McClellan and Kennedy are expected to decide this weekend when to schedule a renewed probe.

Hoffa, meanwhile, has denied in Chicago reports he might bow out of the race for the union presidency to avoid an almost certain ouster of the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO. The union faces charges based partly on disclosures concerning Hoffa, that it is corruptly dominated.

Hoffa said he was in the contest "to the end."

County Democrats To Meet Tuesday

Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic chairman, has called a meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee for Tuesday evening 8 at St. George's Parish House in Lisbon.

Gosney stated that the agenda includes laying plans for the November elections and also the lining up county candidates for the 1958 elections. Offices to be filled in the county include county auditor, two county commissioners, common pleas judge, state representative and state senator.

Gosney today announced the appointment of Mrs. Kay Blackburn of Pittsburgh St., Columbiana, as County Democratic chairwoman.

Ike-Faubus Talk May Settle Issue

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), go-between for Gov. Orval Faubus and the White House, said today that the meeting Saturday between the governor and President Eisenhower "may bring the conclusion of one phase of the problem of not only Little Rock and the youth but of the nation."

Hays made the statement while waiting to take off with the governor in a chartered plane for Newport, R. I., the President's vacation headquarters.

The problem he referred to is that of school integration which has led to an impasse between the governor and federal authorities.

Hays said that he plans to spend tonight in Providence, R. I., and that he hopes to have a preliminary private talk with Sherman Adams, the President's assistant. He said he felt that it is important to avoid any let-downs if we don't come to a solution.

"Both parties have to recognize, as I believe they have, that legalisms alone won't solve these problems," Hays said.

"Under our Anglo-Saxon law there are certain flexibilities."

Hays declined to specify what he thought these "flexibilities" might be in the struggle over integrating Central High School in Little Rock.

"I have some definite ideas and I think the President and the governor have, too."

"It may take several keys to open this door but if any one of them is found it will be a long step toward a solution," Hays said.

Hays, well known to both the President and Faubus, probably will participate in the discussions. Two aides who also are going to Newport with Faubus are not expected to be present when he talks with Eisenhower.

The conference may not bring a definitive end to the struggle that broke out in Little Rock last week when Faubus sent the National Guard to surround Central High School, with orders to turn away Negroes attempting to sign up for classes.

Faubus is under summons to appear in federal court Sept. 20, for a hearing on a preliminary injunction to stop interference with the integration of the school.

But if Eisenhower and Faubus can agree in advance of that on a formula for ending the federal-state dispute over their respective boundaries of authority, the court hearing could become a formality.

Signs of Easing Tension Multiply In Middle East

Serraj Firmly Denies Charges That Reds Control Syrian Army

DAMASCUS (AP)—Syria's two top military chiefs have returned from urgent conferences in Cairo, where they declared Syria will never attack anyone, including Israel.

Brig. Afif Bizry, Leftist army commander, and Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, army intelligence chief, came back to Damascus Thursday.

There were no details here, Cairo newspapers, however, quoted them as saying Syria will not make any aggressive military move with the arms bought from the Soviet Union.

There were other signs of an easing of Middle East tension over Syria.

Premier Sabri Assali told reporters after another emergency meeting of the Cabinet that there was nothing new in the situation and "nothing to be worried about." Thursday's Cabinet session was the fourth in as many days.

The Cairo newspaper Al Akhbar said Serraj firmly denied charges that the Syrian army is controlled by Communists.

Referring to increased U. S. arms shipments to Syria's neighbors, Serraj said: "The imperialists forget that the Arab will never kill his Syrian brother."

The United States early this week stepped up the arms deliveries after expressing fears over increasingly close Damascus-Moscow relations and Soviet arms shipments to Syria.

Serraj said the leaders of Syria.

New Lead In Girl's Slaying Spurs Police

CHICAGO (AP)—Spurred by new reports of screams and a girl struggling in a car the night Judith Mae Andersen vanished, police today searched for the mystery auto and a man called Jack.

James Nallen and his wife Hazel told police Thursday they heard screams and saw a "long-haired girl" struggling with two men in a car on the Northwest Side early Aug. 17.

This was several hours after 15-year-old Judith Mae last was seen alive leaving the home of a girl friend. Her butchered body was found a week later in two oil cans floating in a North Side harbor.

The hunt for the man known as Jack developed after police seized Charles Homer, 22, a North Side gas station attendant. Police said they found two machetes in Homer's car and a hunting knife in his home. They said he told them he had owned a .32 caliber revolver but had sold it "a couple of months ago" to a man he knew only as "Jack."

A medical report released Wednesday showed Judith was killed by two of four .32 caliber bullets fired into her head.

LABOR PARTY WINS GLOUCESTER, England (AP)—The Labor party easily retained the Gloucester seat in the House of Commons by 8,374 votes in an election held Thursday to fill a vacancy. The voting figures were something of a shock to the ruling Conservative party, which came within 748 votes of winning the seat in the 1955 general election.

Local 'Hams' Plan Hidden Transmitter Hunt Sunday

Amateur Radio Club Marks Anniversary

The Quaker Radio Association, an organization of people interested in amateur radio, will observe its second anniversary this month in a rather unique manner.

The group plans a "hidden transmitter hunt" Sunday afternoon, in which the members will gather in teams of two or three to a car at the clubhouse south of town and await a signal from a hidden transmitter somewhere within a 7-mile radius.

At the first signal from the hidden transmitter many strange looking pieces of "gear" will be brought into play, including "loop" type antennas, walkie-talkie receivers, two-way mobile stations, and field strength meters. The object will be to determine in which direction lies the hidden transmitter, then to locate it some where within the seven-mile limit, by driving the cars loaded with equipment and operators around the area and taking further bearings until each team actually locates the transmitter. Speed is no factor, since the team that locates the transmitter by driving the least number of miles wins. After the hunt the members will meet at their club house.

To Meet a Clubhouse

The local "Hams" anniversary month will also be marked by a "fix up" day at their newly-acquired clubhouse located on the Wooddale Road, south of Salem. Members will check all antennas to be certain they will be ready for the coming winter's operating and be sure all the equipment is in good order to be prepared for any emergency operating — such as communications during Civil Defense alerts, storms, when telephone communications may be disabled, or in the event of any emergency where dependable communications may be an important factor.

Marking the end of the month for the local "Hams," will be the annual election of officers to be held Oct. 7.

The local club was started two years ago by just 12 members, mostly licensed radio operators, with meetings being held in the various members homes. Later a meeting room was provided by the Salem's C.D. unit to provide for a local emergency communications unit within the C.D. group. This room was located at the Salem City Hall, and served also as a clubhouse for over a year.

Since then the club has acquired a small building for a permanent clubhouse, had it moved to the present site south of town, built their own transmitting station and more than doubled the membership.

The members come from all walks of life and from each age group. The youngest member is a Boy Scout only 12 years old and the oldest is a doctor who can shake hands with people he delivered into the world who now have reached middle age.

Included in the roll of members are TV and radio servicemen, broadcast radio engineers, painters, plumbers and students, along with other professional people. The only requirement for membership is an interest in amateur radio and a desire to learn more about this interesting hobby.

The Quaker Radio Association conducts regular meetings every other Monday at 8 p.m. and radio code and theory classes every Monday at 7 p.m. In addition to this, there is an "on the air" roll call via radio each Monday at 6:45 p.m. for the licensed operators.

Visitors are always welcome to any of these activities and those interested and wishing to become members may do so at any regular meeting.

A Time to Yield

Senators and gallery visitors will remember for a long time the impression made by Strom Thurmond's one-man filibuster against a civil rights bill which was a compromise acceptable to southern legislators.

The senator from South Carolina was a symbol of last-ditch resistance in a battle already decided. It had been decided not only in the national legislature as a whole but in the Southern bloc whose opposition to the Eisenhower administration's original civil rights bill had forced a compromise.

Sen. Thurmond was a symbol of all bitter-battled warriors who hang on after the issue has been closed. They can be admired for their tenacity, but they cannot be admired for their perspicacity. There is a time to resist and a time to yield.

The United States cannot hold up its head as a nation of free men without protecting the franchise of all its citizens, regardless of color. This is now the opinion of patriotic southerners. It is not an opinion foisted on them by outsiders; the South knows why it must happen. They know why segregation based on color must be put behind them, too, whether the John Kaspers want to permit or not. It has taken a long time to create a southern sentiment strong enough to deal with southern prejudice on home grounds. But success is moving within the South's grasp when a senator from South Carolina stands alone in a filibuster against a civil rights bill.

Dedicated People

School teachers do not expect to be fussed over, either at the beginning or the end of a school term. They are doing a job like the members of other occupational and professional groups.

There is a difference between them and most other groups, however, which sets many teachers apart and brings them special esteem. Bernard M. Baruck expressed it like this: "When I die I hope it will be my good fortune to go where Miss Blake will meet me and lead me to my seat."

The Miss Blakes and the Mister Blakes of the teaching profession are dedicated people who give so much extra to their pupils that money cannot measure their value.

They attain the status of educators, a class distinguished by ability to lead the young. Teachers with formal credentials can be hired, subject only to difficulty in accreditation when demand runs ahead of supply. But educators must be found by trial - and - error selection.

Lucky is the child who comes under the influence of an educator - one who can lead by precept. Lucky are the parents whose children are influenced by educators.

There is no certain way to distinguish ordinary instruction from inspired education, but pupils always know.

It Is No Contest

This is a wonderful time for all the children who have gone back to school and all the little ones who are starting a great adventure. But it is a time of tension, too, because every school child is exposed to traffic dangers while going to and from school. They would be safer if every motorist kept this prayer in his heart:

"Give of life, save me from being the cause of its destruction. Help me to remember it is no contest for survival if the potential weapon which I guide by virtue of a license from the state strikes the body of a child who is on this earth by Divine Grace.

"I do not want him to lose. I pledge, therefore, that with all the compassion of my heart and the skill of my mind and hands I will protect him from his errors and mine. I will be his guardian by my own appointment, looking after his safety as if he were my own. I will try to anticipate the mistakes he may make that will endanger his life, knowing full well that mistakes are inevitable. And I promise that each day as I operate my car I will give the benefit of every doubt to every child who may unwittingly cross my path."

We Can Wait

There is a theory about public relations that goes like this:

Some enterprises are unpopular by their very nature. Therefore, they should call as little attention to themselves as possible and be especially careful not to let themselves be held up to ridicule.

Civil Defense Administration never has been what you could call a popular enterprise. But it has been obliged by the nature of its work to call attention to itself - and it has been a victim of damaging ridicule.

Nothing it has done before, however, was held as damaging to its desired status as a respected agency as its newest fumble - the distribution of thousands of phonograph records of "Heads Up, America," the official CDA march.

The strains of this undoubtedly stirring piece of music, with inspirational lyrics, have not become familiar so far. But we can wait. CDA has given our patience tougher workouts than this will be.

Political Chaos

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Federal Injunction Seen Creating Confusion

Every governor, every sheriff, every mayor and every local official who has anything to do with the administration of state or city laws can be

David Lawrence matter how earnestly and conscientiously the official may be performing the duties of his own office.

Such is the situation which confronts the American people today as they note the unprecedented action of a federal judge in summoning the governor of a sovereign state so that the court may pass judgment on his executive ability, his efficiency and his good faith in discharging the duties of his office.

If the governor of Arkansas should perchance differ with the terms of an injunction that may be issued by the federal judge after the Sept. 20 hearing and continues to keep troops on guard, in accordance with his conscientious belief that he is fulfilling his duty as the chief executive of his state in preventing bloodshed and disorder, he can be charged with "civil contempt" and put in jail.

Under existing federal law, he will not even have the benefit of a jury trial.

IF THE TROOPS are withdrawn and bloodshed follows, there is no way to hold the arbitrary-minded federal judge responsible for the death of any citizen.

How easy it would be for impassioned opinion to uphold a dictator in America today if he attempted overnight to transform into an irresponsible government into an irresponsible government - judging by the widespread indifference to what is happening in Arkansas.

Many persons say frankly in their conversations with their neighbors that the governor ought to be jailed but the average citizen today knows little about our dual system of government.

Lack of education in the schools on the constitutional rights of the states, plus the steady whittling away of those rights by a usurping federal government, aided by a usurping Supreme Court, has persuaded many citizens that, of course, anything the federal government does is right in all controversies with the states.

"WHY DON'T you remove the Wisconsin senator from office?" wrote many citizens to President Eisenhower in 1955.

They didn't seem to realize that there is a guarantee of freedom of speech in the Constitution. Nor did they know apparently that the states are supposed to be sovereign.

Memo To Truman Twill

By REX V. FARRALL

(Editor's Note: Some of T.T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him this year. Today's essayist operates an advertising agency.)

This is a memo to Truman Twill, to be read when he comes back to work after his vacation:

She said it had been caused by an auto crash, and my, it was a lovely funeral. His casket cost $3,000, and eight men could hardly carry it. Think of that!

You think of it. No me. It happened to somebody else. Maybe his number was up, that's all. Perhaps the accident was his fault; maybe he made a booboo.

But, Truman, why must the lesson he learned be so permanent? What can we do?

You write a column for exposure to a couple hundred thousand people, and there are only two reasons today why people read anything:

1. To be entertained;
2. To learn something.

A good ad must do both these things (Maybe that's why so many bankers are running cartoons. Ha ha, money!).

Your column is good because you hold 'em with humor and slip in the learning. In other words, it's sense thru nonsense.

So now back to the traffic problem. Whenever I want something just as slightly wacky as Truman Twill, I write Bert Lower in California. He operates a plastic molding firm there . . . (and you know you can't knock on wood any more, everything's plastic).

I say, "Bert, could humor teach people to drive better today? . . . supposing that some casket-maker would offer the features of the new cars . . . it would kinda be the 'after-market,' so to speak."

Right-away, back comes the business like answer: "This is a good idea. For a fee, space but could have a six-way ad we can make a real good casket. Fiberglass is the thing these days. One with dual exhaust, four-barrel carburetor and Dinah-flow, for going down the river smoothly. Optional, a fuel injectin V-8 engine for those who like a fast getaway. Not sure about luggage justable seat for those who like to

Now a governor is to be interrupted in his duties and perhaps removed by a federal court and put in jail.

Nor do the people generally understand that a governor can be tried now without a jury and sentenced to jail by the same judge who makes the charge and acts as prosecuting attorney, judge and jury.

Congress debated this very issue recently in connection with the "civil rights" bill but surrendered to the concept of a federal dictatorship. There are no jury trials in "civil contempt" cases.

This correspondent made a memorandum for himself on Saturday, Aug. 31, apropos of the passage of the "civil rights" legislation by Congress and put it in his files to be read a year hence. The memorandum read as follows:

"The damage done to constitutional government by a majority at the session of Congress just ended is epochal. It is the worst blow to the dual system of government inflicted in the history of the republic."

"FOR THE STATES have been placed in the role of subordinate 'satellites' of the federal government."

"Their governors, their justices, their mayors and their sheriffs now can be court-martialed at any time by federal injunction. They no longer are independent, self-governing units."

"Only a patriotic and impartial minded Supreme Court of the United States can strike down this usurpation of power by Congress."

The membership of the present court - itself recently guilty of usurpation - affords, however, little hope of saving the constitutional system.

"The legislators call the new measure, for instance, a law on 'CIVIL RIGHTS.'"

"They have made millions of persons believe that only the right-to-vote issue is involved. Actually, the new law is a condemnation of state government in America - its capacity to rule."

"THIS DEPRIVES the states of their historic right to determine for themselves who the qualifications of voters shall be and whether state, county and city officials are properly enforcing such state laws."

"This opens the way at any time for the central government to break down the authority of state governments on any question by further use of the same principle of federal authority now written into the 'civil rights' legislation."

Only four days later the prediction that this memorandum came true. There is chaos today in the relations between the states and the federal government.

Footnote for history: In this tragic hour the President and the Congress and the Supreme Court of the United States are away from Washington on vacation.

"Looks More Like Pennant Fever Than Asian Flu"

Political Decision

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 - Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas now has his chance to back down more or less gracefully and still, as a politician, who may want a third term, reap some political benefit for himself.

But this situation could be a dilly if he wanted to keep on bucking the federal government. He probably won't.

Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies has directed Faubus to explain Sept. 20 why he should not be ordered to stop using the state's National Guardsmen to keep Negro children from a Little Rock school which Davies three times has ordered integrated.

The Justice Department seems to take it for granted Faubus can't justify using the troops the way he has, and it seems certain that Davies will issue an injunction ordering him to stop.

It is possible Faubus will seek a third term as governor - an unusual thing in his state. Even if he obeys a court order and calls off his troops, he probably already has won the gratitude of those in Arkansas who are segregationists. Faubus says a majority of Arkansians are.

If he refused to obey the order he could be cited for contempt of court, tried and jailed. This might strengthen his position with segregationists because then he would be in the role of a martyr.

But he's already done more - at least in a spectacular way - than any other Southern governor to oppose school integration. He may feel that's enough and so comply with a court order to stop preventing integration.

These are some of the things which could happen if he wanted to be stubborn. If he were ordered to stop using the troops to keep Negro children from school, he could appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals to set Davies' injunction aside.

But until the appeals court acted, he would have to obey the injunction or face contempt of court charges. And if he disobeyed, he could be tried even through the appeals court later set aside the injunction.

Suppose, having disobeyed the injunction, he stayed in his mansion, surrounded by guardsmen who were instructed to prevent a

U.S. marshal from serving Faubus with an order to appear in court for trial. What then?

It probably wouldn't happen, since Faubus already has respected the court to the extent of accepting from a marshal an order to appear in court Sept. 20 for the injunction hearing.

But suppose he did? The prospect then, as lawyers here explain it, would get completely dizzy. This is how they see it:

If he didn't appear for trial on contempt charges, the judge could find him guilty in his absence - say on a civil contempt charge - and order him jailed until he complied.

If, meanwhile, he stayed in his mansion and kept the troops around the school to bar Negro children, the judge could impose a fine on him for every day he defied the injunction.

If he stayed guarded in his mansion until his term was up, he could then be seized and would have to pay all the fines he owed. Further, he could also then be tried for criminal contempt and given a flat jail sentence.

Meanwhile the guardsmen, individually and collectively, could be enjoined from keeping Negro children out of the schools. If they disobeyed, they could be charged with contempt and tried.

Marshals might not be able to bring the guardsmen in to face trial. But if one of the marshals were hurt or shot by a guardsman, the individual who did it would be committing a federal crime.

There's almost no end to the crazy series of events which could follow if Faubus refused to obey the court order.

Downhearted Co-Eds

By HOLLIS LIMPRECT

This is the time of the year when the campus air is filled with footballs and the happy squeals of freshmen girls "pledged" to a sorority. At the same time, handkerchiefs are filled with the tears of miserable, rejected girls.

The hurt can be real and deep, and sometimes is carried into later life, according to Dr. Jackson A. Smith, associate director for Research of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute.

"The girl who has gone through rush week with fear and certainty and then stands by and watches with increasing despair as her friends are accepted, until only an unwanted few remain, may surely know rejection in its fullest sense," declared Dr. Smith, a onetime fraternity man himself.

Dr. Smith made a nationwide survey of the sorority's psychological and psychiatric impact in impressionable teen-age girls. The deans of women of the colleges he contacted were amazingly frank.

SOME OF HIS findings were printed in the Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases and from the survey he concluded that universities should feel a deeper sense of responsibility to girls who aren't pledged in order to ease the mental pain.

"Maybe all girls who don't make it should attend a large gripe session," he declared. It would be a kind of group therapy.

"They could register their complaints and help get the hurt out of their systems," he suggested.

What most unpicked girls don't know, Dr. Smith said, is that there usually just aren't enough sorority bids available for the entire freshman class population.

"Suppose three girls from the same small town travel off to the same university. They run into all the excitement and pressures of a strange environment. They may be far away from home for the first time.

"Two of the girls are pledged to a single sorority and one is left out. The one left out will feel pretty homesick, blue and dejected."

NEXT SHE WILL begin to diagnose her "failure" and wind up considering herself a social outcast.

Some sororities reserve places for the daughters or sisters of previous chapter members. In other sororities, alumnae members may play a major role during rush week and the older alumnae may be more inclined to tap a girl on the basis of the social or economic standing of the girl's parents.

All of this will leave some girls

out. But the unselected girls don't know these facts about pledge selection.

"The girl going through rush week should be informed of this officially by the university to prevent her assuming her failure is due to some personal defect," Dr. Smith said.

The bigger the university the greater the unpicked girl's loneliness, he said.

Small colleges usually attempt to provide social activities for its students to a greater degree than the big, impersonal schools.

Many rejected girls - and boys - band together as independents, known on some campuses as "Barbs." The latter is a contraction of the word "barbarian," used to distinguish them from the "Greeks" of the Greek-letter societies.

"SOME GIRLS, failing to receive the coveted bid, may change schools or return home," said Dr. Smith. "In less severe disappointments, the girl may remain unhappily as an independent or as a dissatisfied member of a sorority she considers of lesser rank."

Some girls wear their nonaffiliation as martyrs, even into later life. Dr. Smith said: "They are the ones who when asked 'What were you?' definitely reply 'nothing' and continue at great length to explain why."

Boys who don't earn a fraternity pledge aren't usually as upset as the girl snubbed by the sororities. A boy can go to many campus social events alone whereas the girl must go in a group or with a male escort. Dates are easier to obtain as a sorority "pledge."

Dr. Smith said he doesn't feel sororities are wrong. Most sororities emphasize high scholastic achievement, and frat boys are obliged to date them, thus assuring their plunge into social swim.

"The fault lies with the school that does not make more effort to provide social activities for the nonsorority girl," he concluded. "That's when a girl needs a friend."

Tell Us It Ain't So, John

Unless John Bull is determined to open himself again to bad publicity from free world enemies in the frenzied fight to win better understandings and wider friendships, he will find a way to get around the law under which he announced he will separate a seeing-eye dog and its blind master, a youth about to pursue studies in England as a Fulbright scholar.

Our hunch is that by this time John has taken action to appear less cruel and stubborn.

A LAW IS A LAW and many nations are unwilling about them. But certainly the commie countries, alert to good propaganda, would be too smart to finish second in an issue of a blind man and his pal.

Before he youth and pooch were on the boat, it is a safe guess that the Moscow press was going all out to present the picture of England booting a dog into a kennel and leaving its blind master in the lurch for half a year, during which time those sensitive contacts between a sightless man and a seeing-eye dog can be lost.

IT IS HARD to tie in this picture with the portrait of a free-world nation as a big-hearted, kindly champion of a more decent world.

It seems certain Jonathan Bull will either make an exception in this case or find some happy humane solution.

If he fails to do so, he will be sticking out his neck for the typical sneering attacks from the enemies of western civilization.

All newspaper editors know the high value of dog-and-master stories in human interest appeal and it is likely that already in the papers of Red China, Syria, Egypt, Hungary and in other states on all the continents, Moscow propaganda specialists have seen to it that here have been phoos of Jefferson Davis Duty, Jr. and his dog.

(Probably with tailored captions, "IMPERIALISTS PART BLIND MAN AND HIS GUIDE.")

THERE'S ANOTHER ROW in the Ringling family, with a daughter of one of the circus founders suing John Ringling North and others of the present Ringling Circus management, charging a loss of 20 million dollars in the past ten years. . . . The lady charges that John R. North wasted vast sums and cites bills of $50,000 for Waldorf visits.

She says Henry North maintains a year round apartment in Rome and is known to circus hands as "vice president in charge of Rome."

This is all depressing news to millions of boys whose dream is to grow up and own a big circus. . . . It has generally been thought to be a happy world of sawdust, tanbark, thrills and body else, except perhaps in a case where general joy, with nobody fighting or suing anybody stole an elephant.

In our boyhood we were sure we would one day run a circus, and in this radiant dream we never once saw a lawyer, a briefcase, a courtroom or a part owner punching us in the breezer. . . . We saw it as a world of stupendous performers, not stupendous attorneys, and colossal acts where a man put his head into the mouth of a lion, and not in the jaws of Spiegel, Murphy, Klotz, Brown & Blooper.

LOUIS E. WOLFSON, famed financier, is reported offering five million dollars for the Dodgers. . . . He is perhaps interested in the idea of getting a man from third base to home plate by proxies. . . . Or settle an overtime game by merger.

Mr. Wolfson has won much publicity through battles for contra of great corporations and is so dynamic and keen-minded that he might be able to pitch, catch, hit, run and slide, all in one operation.

Maybe what baseball needs is a top industrialist who can concentrate on hit production, home-run volume, the low-cost two-bagger and the large economy-sized pennant.

Such a man might even give the world a baseball diamond with an annual change in design.

Guarding Your Health

Forms of Allergies

It is estimated that 17 million people in the United States suffer with some form of allergy.

Allergy may be described as a kind of increased sensitivity to some protein which is foreign to the human body, such as that contained in certain foods or inhaled in the form of pollen from the air. The most important manifestations of allergy are hay fever, asthma, chronic irritation of the nose (rhinitis), eczema, hives and drug reactions.

The recognition of a specific cause for an allergic disorder is on the increase. Probably pollen was the first to be so identified. Among others are molds, dandruff from animals, house dust, certain foods, drugs and a host of substances which can produce allergic reactions when coming in contact with the skin.

However, even today all the causes of allergy are not known. In continuous rhinitis and asthma an allergic cause can be found in only about 50-70 out of 100 victims. One wonders what is responsible in the remainder. In many cases of hives also an allergic cause cannot be identified.

The treatment of allergies has made progress. In many cases today it is possible to identify and eliminate an allergy - producing substance from food or inhalation. Non-allergic substitutes for cosmetics, clothes, mattresses and drugs are often available. Desensitization by gradually increasing doses of the responsible allergenic agent is a well-recognized procedure. This needs improvement of course. Patients and physicians often find the long-term programs of desensitization tedious and inconsistent in duration and effects.

There are a great number of unsolved problems about allergy. Why is it that an allergic cause is so often not found in hives? Why does a patient's skin fail to react to foods when he is clearly allergic to them? While it is clear that many patients with allergy are affected by the weather, we do not know how this operates. Also we need to know more about how emotional factors affect allergies.

Reasons exist for feeling that there is an hereditary influence in many allergies, but if so, why do some escape entirely? Why do some acquire manifestations of allergy much later in life than others though all are exposed to the same circumstance? These and many other puzzles

Wilson-Haupt Vows Heard In Church at Salineville

Miss Marlene Carol Wilson and Anson Lee Haupt exchanged their marriage vows Saturday evening in a double ring ceremony performed in the Salineville Methodist Church.

The chancel was enhanced with bouquets of white mums and gladioli, ferns and twin seven-branch candelabra. Rev. Ashley Wilson, pastor of the Hanoverton Presbyterian Church officiated at the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Wilson of Salineville are the bride's parents. Mr. Haupt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haupt of Hanoverton.

"I Take Thee Dear," "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Miss Mary Davis of Salineville. She was accompanied by Miss Kay Aulborn of Salineville.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The fitted lace bodice was fashioned with a sabrina neckline and short sleeves. Her bouffant skirt was of lace of satin.

A half crown of pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with white roses, lily of the valley and satin streamers. She wore a rhinestone cross, a gift of the bridegroom.

Ballerina length gowns of nylon net were worn by the attendants. As matron of honor, Mrs. Betty Marquis of Hanoverton, chose an orchid gown. The bridesmaids, Miss Donna Kellogg, Mrs. Suzanne Baker and Miss Sue Leek, all of Salineville, appeared in yellow.

All wore matching stoles and white roses in their hair. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations and rosebuds.

Trudy Lynne Woolf, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. With her bow of white embroidered nylon, she carried a basket of rose petals.

George Thomas Wilson of Beloit, brother of the bride, was best man. Jerry Haupt and Larry Haupt, brothers of the bridegroom, all of Hanoverton. Terry Lee Mellott, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Red rose corsages complemented the navy blue ensembles worn by the mothers of the couple.

Reception Is Held
The reception followed in the church recreation rooms. Red rosebuds encircled the four tiered wedding cake which centered the bride's table. Vases of white and yellow gladioli graced the table.

Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Robert Woolf, Mrs. Cleo Mellott, Mrs. George Moss and Mrs. Joseph Igoo served. Miss Rosalee Brice registered the 250 guests from Cleveland, Alliance, Akron, Canton, Sebring, New York, Westville, Hanoverton, Salem, Lisbon, Wells, East Liverpool, Steubenville, Irondale, Mechanicstown and Salineville.

A 1957 graduate of Salineville High School, the bride is employed as a clerk at Hazelett's Market in Salineville. Her husband attended Hanoverton High School and is employed at the Summitville Brick Co.

For traveling to Florida, Mrs. Haupt wore a black and white checked suit with matching accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. Upon their return, they will reside at RD 1, Summitville.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening.

A strike would not immediately affect dial phone service.

The union has been working without a contract since Aug. 26. A strike had been authorized but no date was set until Wednesday.

The union seeks an average wage boost of 11 1/2 cents an hour. The company reportedly has offered 9 cents. Another bone of contention is the length of a new contract. The CWA wants a one-year pact, the company a three-year one. Current wages average $1.96 an hour, according to the union.

The New York Telephone Co. announced Thursday that its employees were not members of the groups set to strike and that "there is no reason why New York telephone service should be interrupted."

GOP Titular Head In Michigan Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit, titular head of the Republican party in Michigan, died Thursday night 11 hours after suffering a heart attack. He was 63.

Cobo, mayor of this industrial city of 2 1/2 million persons since 1950, collapsed at his home Thursday morning, a few hours after he had returned from Washington, where he testified in a hearing before the Federal Power Commission.

Cobo was a former president of the American Municipal Assn., and a trustee of the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

As Republican nominee for governor in 1956, he was beaten soundly by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

But Cobo never was a loser in a Detroit municipal election. He won seven terms as city treasurer starting in 1935, before he first ran for mayor in 1949. He took office in 1950.

Survivors include his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Jean Collman and Mrs. Elaine Hurst, both of Detroit.

said few of the 2,400 Columbus employees crossed the picket lines.

At Ironton, 140 workers walked out when the original Sunday deadline passed without an agreement. They refused to return, they said, until agreement is reached on a new contract.

In Stark County, 500 employees left their jobs Thursday at Canton, Massillon and Alliance to attend union meetings.

Supervisory employees manned switchboards in the struck exchanges. Local and long distance dial service was not disrupted but long distance calls requiring an operator were slowed.

Ohio Bell has offered a 15-month contract providing weekly pay raises of $2.50 to $5 or a one-year contract with a $2-$4.50 weekly raise. The union said it would not accept a 15-month contract and termed the one-year offer inadequate.

MONEY, JEWELS STOLEN

BADEN BADEN, Germany (AP)—Police said today $22,000 in travelers' checks and six pearl necklaces worth $5,000 were stolen here Thursday from one of the sons of King Saud of Saudi Arabia. The money and jewels were removed from the son's hotel suite, police said.

Saud arrived here Tuesday with an all-male entourage of 39, including seven sons, for a stay of several weeks in this health resort.

Government Nears Legal Debt Limit

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the next couple of months, the government will be skating very close to the 275-billion-dollar legal limit of the national debt. It may get as close as several hundred million dollars.

To meet heavy government expenses in the next few months—a period when tax revenues are traditionally low—the Treasury said Thursday it will borrow three billion dollars in a variety of securities with maturity periods ranging from 1 to 12 years. The issues all will carry interest rate of 4 per cent.

By the end of this month, a Treasury spokesman said, the government will be within half a billion dollars of the debt ceiling, to last for several months, at least.

The debt now stands at about 273 billion dollars, of which 1 1/2 billions will be paid off when a series of 119-day tax anticipation bills mature Sept. 23. Another half billion dollars comes due Oct. 1.

Survivors include his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Jean Collman and Mrs. Elaine Hurst, both of Detroit.

Holdup Attempt Fails At Cleveland Bank

CLEVELAND (AP)—A holdup attempt failed today at a branch office of the North American Bank when two gunmen apparently panicked and fled without taking any money.

Gerry Herbison, manager of the branch said the holdup men were at the front door as he put the key in the lock at 8:30 a.m. The gunmen took the keys.

One of the gunmen forced Herbison into a corner. The other shoved a gun into the back of Dr. Frank Jarm, 46, a chiropractor, as he entered a door leading to his second floor office above the bank. The doctor was ordered to "get moving fast" into the bank.

"I don't know what happened," Dr. Jarm said. "One of the robbers, obviously scared, said: 'Let's get out of here.'"

Herbison said the gunmen may have been scared because they thought a passerby had spotted them.

The two, both wearing stocking masks, fled north on East 156th Street in a car. It was not known immediately whether a third man was driving the car.

LISBON — Sixty persons attended the twilight meeting of the Columbiana — Mahoning County Potato Growers Association at Thompson and Sons' farm west of West Point Thursday evening.

V. E. Kerins, manager of the Ohio Potato Growers Association, gave a favorable report on the outlook for marketing of the coming potato crop.

E. C. Wittmyer, potato specialist from Ohio State University, talked on digging, handling, and grading potatoes to keep from injuring them.

The group toured the farm. Al Agnew, county representative to the State Potato Growers Association, reported on the trip to Long Island, N.Y., which the state association took last year.

Beck Denies Income Tax Fraud Charges

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Dave Beck has told a federal judge he hopes he can convince a jury next spring—that he is innocent of charges of defrauding the government of $184,000 in income taxes.

The slightly nervous Teamsters Union president entered the formal plea Thursday before Federal Judge George Boldt. In it he denied charges recently returned in a seven-count indictment by a federal grand jury concerning his income for the years 1951-53.

With him in court and also entering innocent pleas to charges they conspired to aid Beck in the evasion were his son Dave Jr., a union organizer, and two other Teamster officials, Fred Verhoeven Sr., Teamsters Union auditor, and Norman J. Gessert, a cousin of Mrs. Beck Sr. and a union organizer.

The four were granted permission to attend the Teamsters' international convention in Miami Sept. 30 when Beck's successor will be named.

Beck startled newsmen when asked who would be the next president of the giant union by replying: "I certainly know, but I'm not going to say."

It is expected Beck will face trial, with the others, in the spring session of the court.

Syria

ia's army believe in nationalism and their unanimous aim is Arab nationalism.

"I am not a Communist and there is not one single Communist officer in the whole Syrian army," Serraj added.

He declared the United States divides the world into two parts—American or non-American—and added:

"You are either American and tie your country's policies and interests to those of imperialism or you are not, and this, they believe, means that you are Communist. To the Western imperialists every nationalist is a Communist and everyone who works for the interests of his country is a Russian agent."

A government spokesman announced Bizry and Serraj had returned from Cairo, where they talked with President Nasser and his Egyptian army commanders.

"What we will do is fight back against any attack," Bizry told the Egyptian Middle East News Agency. "We will burn the sky and the land to defend our country against Zionists or others."

Bizry accused U.S. Secretary of State Dulles of waging a war of nerves against Syria. He predicted that Arab countries now getting arms from the United States will never use them against other Arab states.

He also asserted the military aid Syria has received from the Soviet Union is for defense and said Russia has never asked Syria to sacrifice its independence.

Bizry said Syria will not attack Israel because "we have signed an armistice agreement and, unlike Zionists, we honor our signature."

Bizry said the Syrian and Egyptian armies are a single force under Egypt's supreme command.

In Cairo, he said, there was a "general review of the situation, as the two armies are one, with one command and one plan."

Also returning to Damascus was Salah Tarazi, general secretary of the Syrian Foreign Ministry, who went to Beirut for talks with Lebanon's Foreign Minister Charles Malik.

Damascus newspapers quoted Tarazi as saying relations would be improved if the United States would recognize Syrian neutrality and would not interfere in Syrian domestic affairs.

While the tension between Washington and Damascus appeared to be easing, trouble broke out along the Syrian-Lebanese border.

Reports from Beirut said 10 persons were killed in a 45-minute battle between Lebanese police and a band of unidentified armed men in northern Lebanon.

An announcement from Lebanon's Interior Ministry said a police patrol encountered the armed band as it was crossing the border from Syria into Lebanon.

The ministry statement said it was not known whether the band was made up of Lebanese or Syrians.

STRIKE DELAYS WORK

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A strike by 110 Western Electric Co. telephone installers has halted conversion of Sandusky's manual telephone system to a dial system. The installers, members of the Communications Workers of America, walked off the job Thursday in a dispute over grievances, according to the union. The walkout is not connected with a threatened nationwide strike of Western Electric installers set for 6 a. m. Monday.

TYPHOON STRIKES

MANILA (AP)—Typhoon Carmen hit the northern tip of the Philippines today. Winds of 110 miles an hour and heavy seas struck the sparsely-populated Batanes Islands. It should miss Formosa and slam into the China mainland north of Hong Kong on its present course, the Manila weather bureau said.

Two of Four Jail Escapees Re-Captured

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Two of four Ohio County jail prisoners who escaped Wednesday by sawing the bars out of a cell window were re-taken early yesterday in Bellaire, Ohio, about four miles from here.

Patrolman Charles Weekly of the Bellaire police said Gerald Eugene Hopkins, 23, of Columbus, Ohio, and Robert L. Scott, 24, of Wheeling, were arrested as they tried to break into a Bellaire service station. They had been at large about 19 hours.

Two of the escapees remain at large. They are Fred Lee Johnson, 41, of Columbus, and Joseph Thomas, 24, of Wheeling.

Hopkins was serving time at the jail for a parole violation and Scott was awaiting grand jury action on charges of non-support and grand larceny. Both were returned to the Ohio County jail.

Johnson was being held on a charge of parole violation allegedly committed after his parole from the state penitentiary, where he was serving a life sentence for a Mercer County slaying. Thomas had been convicted of accepting compensation from a prostitute.

Negro Father Finds Bomb on Front Lawn

EASTON, Md. (AP)—A Negro father of two children attending a formerly all-white elementary school found a homemade bomb of 10 sticks of dynamite on his front lawn this morning.

Sessions Boyd spotted a plastic picnic bag in front of his house. When he pulled the zipper, he saw the dynamite and called police.

A Maryland state police sergeant dunked it in a bucket of water.

Thomas Mesick, a dealer in dynamite, said the explosives had the potential force of a one-ton bomb and would have destroyed or severely damaged three or four of the frame row houses on the street.

Mesick said the dynamite probably failed to go off because of a faulty fuse. The inside of the bag was scorched, indicating the fuse had been set off.

Protests to integration of elementary schools in Talbot County have been made by a white citizens association. However, no demonstrations have been staged since school opened a week ago when three pickets were arrested.

Home Economics Assn. Will Hear Speaker

The nominating and constitution report on their summer meetings. Refreshments will be served.

Any graduate home economist living in Columbiana County is eligible to belong to the association, according to Miss Julia A. Shank, associate county extension agent.

Braves Beat Bums 2-1 On Crandall's Pinch Single In 9th

Milwaukee Held To Only 4 Hits

Washington Loses To Detroit 8-5

By The Associated Press
After 12 months of living with "choke-up" taunts, Milwaukee's Braves have proved their stuff, for the moment at least, against their chief tormentors — Brooklyn's dethroned Dodgers.

The Braves never looked more like champs than Thursday night. Held to only four hits by rookie Danny McDevitt, they paired 'em with walks and beat the Brooks 2-1 on Del Crandall's pinch single in the ninth.

With second-place St. Louis idle, the Braves padded their National League lead for the first time in nine days, gaining a five-game bulge with 15 to play and reducing their pennant-chic magic number to 11.

Any combination of Braves' victories and St. Louis defeats totaling 11 starts the beer flowing in Milwaukee.

The American League should settle its pennant scrap in the next 24 hours in a two-game showdown between the New York Yankees and Chicago's second-place White Sox opening at Yankee Stadium today.

The Sox, who whipped Boston 7 1/2 yesterday while the Yankees were idle, are five games behind with 16 left (two more than the Yankees have). New York's magic number also is 11.

Only one other game was played in the majors with Detroit defeating Washington 8-5.

The Braves, who had lost five of eight, had to scrap all the way against McDevitt, 24. They collected eight walks, but managed hits in the fourth and ninth—scoring in each frame.

Two flares up with the ump's interrupted the game, and the Braves won both of them. The first voided a Brooklyn run, the second set up the tinning mark.

The Dodgers, eight games back in third, scored in the second off Bob Buhl, making his first start since Aug. 18 because of a sore shoulder and chased the right-hander who beat them eight times last season with a single and two walks that loaded the bases with one out in a frantic fourth.

Bob Townbridge relieved and got out of the jam when Junior Gilliam's sinking liner was dropped by right fielder Andy Pafko's throw at second, tagged Roy Campanella, who had retreated to second after starting for third, and then stepped on the bag to force the runner from first. Umpire Hal Dixon first allowed only the force out, permitting the runner from third to score, but when the Braves squawked, he consulted the other ump's and ruled it a runless doubleplay.

In the ninth, after a leadoff walk, Wes Covington hit into an apparent double play, but plate umpire Dusty Boggess ruled he had called time before the pitch. Boggess started the play over again after rejecting Dodger arguments and Covington singled. A forceout followed, but Crandall then slashed his single.

Townbridge won his sixth. McDevitt fanned seven and gave the Dodgers an NL record. The Brooks' 823 strikeouts better their own league record of 817 set in 1953.

The White Sox rapped 14 hits, including Luis Aparicio's third home run, while right-hander Jim Wilson won his 14th—his high in an 11-year career. Wilson, the AL's shutout leader, lost a bid for his sixth whitewash job on an unearned run in the seventh. Frank Sullivan was the loser for a 13-10 record.

Ray Boone and Frank Bolling homered for the Tigers, who pocketed six of the game's 10 unearned runs. Duke Maas won his 10th with relief help while Chuck Stobbs lost his 19th.

Bad Season For Notre Dame Might Be End For Brennan

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Last football season, Notre Dame's varsity was young and inexperienced. This fall, the Irish varsity should know its way around, but reserves will be green.

"Before last season, a lot of people thought Notre Dame sophomores were better than sophomores anywhere else," Coach Terry Brennan said today. "They weren't."

That tersely tells the story of the worst Irish season in history (2-8), a season that now has Brennan battling for his job.

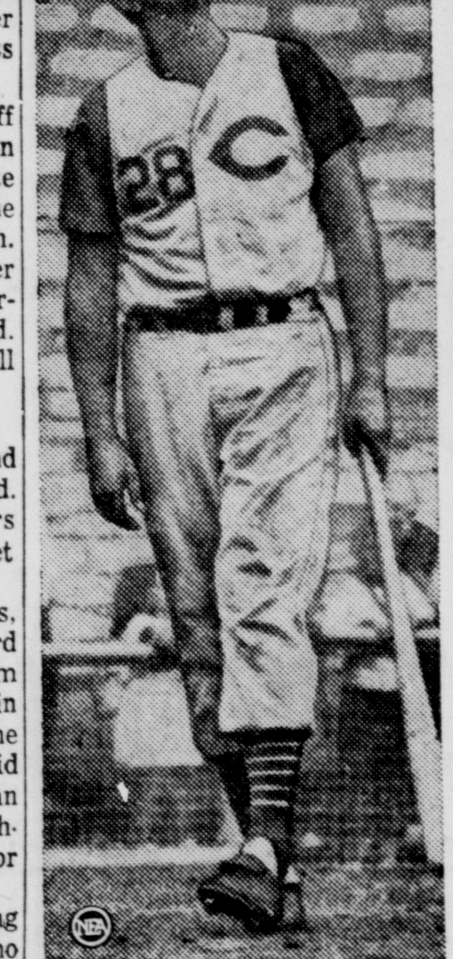

Notre Dame had nine sophomore starters in last season's finale. Thus, this year's team will be predominantly a junior team, relying on sophs for what depth there will be.

Brennan, 29, was "re-engaged" for just this season, his fourth at the Irish helm, with the obvious understanding his Irish must improve considerably, or else.

An even break would be a big break for Brennan, who suggests that "generally, we're a year away from being strong competitors."

Certainly, the still thin Irish forces can hardly be expected to avenge last year's routs by Michigan State (47-14), Oklahoma (40-0), Navy (33-7) or Iowa (48-8). All are ready to take another swipe at the one-mighty Irish.

Notre Dame also engages Army, Indiana, Purdue, Pittsburgh and Southern California.

DISGUST — Last year, they went over the fence for Wally Post, Cincinnati's outfielder, but now they go straight up—along with the team's once-bright pennant chances.

"We're farther ahead than last year," said Brennan. "The squad is in its best physical condition of recent years."

"But we're very thin with 50 or 52 players on the field. We'll have to be fortunate and avoid injuries, and we'll have to stay tough."

"If there is a strong point on this squad, it is team spirit and desire. The players realize football is a game with an 11-man unit."

Brennan praised Paul Hornung, Notre Dame's one-man show of 1956, but obviously is looking for more "unit" quarterbacking from a graduated Hornung's replacement, junior Bob Williams.

"I want Williams to run the team as a unit," said Brennan. "The prime requisite of a quarterback is to run a team well."

Two sophomores, Don White of Haverhill, Mass., and George Izo, touted 205-pounder from Barberton, Ohio, will operate behind Williams.

Notre Dame, which has leaned heavily towards the Split T, this season will have the single wing as a "definite part" of its offense. This means such backs as track star Aubrey Lewis, Dick Lynch, Jim Just, Frank Reynolds, Bob Ward, Nick Petrosante and Chuck Lima will be running more than last year.

Petrosante gets the fullback call over Lima because of his punting skill.

Notre Dame's line, no particular bother to foes last season, should be starched by experience. The ends will be strong, led by Dick Prendergast and Bob Wetoska. Back at tackles are Bronko Nagurski, 20 pounds heavier at 230, Frank Geremia, Don Lawrence and Pat Dolan.

Seasoned guards include Al Ecuver, Dick Shulsen and Bob Gaydos with junior Jim Schaaf due to start after being injured last year. Center will be handled by veteran Ed Sullivan and sophomore Bob Scholtz.

OFFERS BUMS HOME

SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N. J. — This community of 17,000, once known as New Brooklyn, has invited the Brooklyn Dodgers to move here.

In an open letter to Dodger President Walter O'Malley, Mayor Robert M. Baldwin said: "Go West Dodgers, but only across the Hudson to South Plainfield, New Jersey. You have the team, Rockefeller has the money, and we have the land."

O'Malley has not yet commented on the proposal.

Walker Cup Team Players In National Amateur Semifinals

BROOKLINE, Mass. —Before the 57th National Amateur Golf Championship started last Monday, Rex Baxter predicted that a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team would win the title.

Dick Yost, a team alternate, figured if he wanted to bet on the outcome, he'd have to string along with Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Baxter as his choices.

The astuteness of their forecasts and of the selections of the Walker Cup Committee were reflected in the matches today in the tournament's 36-hole semifinals.

It was Taylor, the stylish 40-year-old dentist-golfer from Pomona, Calif., against Mason Rudolph, bespectacled 23-year-old Army private from Clarksville, Tenn., and Baxter, 21 and a senior at the University of Houston, against lean Hillman Robbins, an Air Force lieutenant from Memphis, Tenn.

All four played on the U.S. Walker Cup team against Britain's top amateurs less than two weeks ago and all but Robbins won their singles matches.

None of them reached the semifinals without a few misgivings. Taylor, who hadn't seen the last six holes since Monday, had to go to the 18th twice Thursday to beat Jim Tom Blair and former Public Links champion Gene Andrews, both by two-hole margins.

Rudolph eliminated Yost, a big, blond youngster who played on the 1955 Walker Cup team, with a birdie on the 19th hole of their quarter-final match after Yost had caught him with a superb approach shot from behind a tree at the 18th.

Robbins a 2-up winner over Tim Holland in the morning's fifth round, finished off former champion Dick Chapman 3 and 1 in the only quarter-final match that didn't reach the 18th green. Baxter had to go to the 21st before stopping another University of Houston player, Phil Rodgers.

Hitting Del Crandall, Braves—collected a pinch single, Milwaukee's fourth hit of the game, that drove in the tie-breaking run with one out in the ninth and defeated the Dodgers 2-1.

Baltimore Pitcher Undergoes Operation

BALTIMORE (AP)—Art Ceccarelli, Baltimore Orioles pitcher, was reported in satisfactory condition today after undergoing an appendectomy at Union Memorial Hospital.

The 27-year-old southpaw was stricken Thursday night during pre-game practice and underwent the operation a short time later. The game with Kansas City was later washed out by rain.

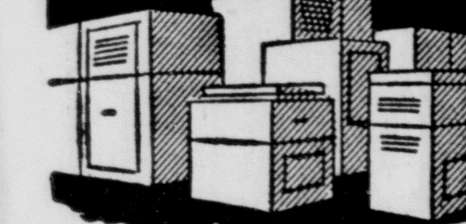

The ailment erased Ceccarelli's ambition of turning in a 1957 victory after five straight losses.

Revere, Mass.—Billy Ryan, 170, Lowell, Mass. stopped Willie Hartley, 164½, Brooklyn 8.

THROUGH? — Robin Roberts is a Philadelphia bullpen pitcher now — and trade bait. His arm seems to have run out of strikes and he's been blasted all season.

Race Program Set Saturday At Canfield

Walt Boslough, Sharon, Pa., stock car driver will have his 1953 Hudson in top shape for the late model feature at the Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

Driving the orange No. 22, Boslough has finished in the top 10 eight times this season, but has yet to win a feature. He has appeared in every Canfield race card this season and has captured the checkered flag in many heat events.

However, he has been jinxed in the feature and a third place is his best showing to date.

There will be at least 30 cars on hand for the late model races and they will be sharing the program with the speedy modified "bombs."

Giving Boslough plenty of competition will be Bill Forney, Bud Wilhelm, Kenny Lowe, Roy Gemberling, Jim Bickerstaff, Paul Kerr, Dave McMurray and a host of others.

Both the late models and the modified "bombs" will compete in 20-lap features. In all there will be eight events on the quarter-mile oval.

Plenty of action is in store for fans in the modified event. It is open competition and here are no limitations placed on cars.

As a result, these racers are cut down and powered with plenty of horsepower. There will be Chryslers, Oldsmobiles, GM Cs, Fords, Mercurys, Thunderbirds, Buicks, Lincolns and Corvettes in action.

Time trials for the race program get underway at 7 p.m. Race time is 8:30

Sandy To Meet German Tonight

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—A dozen former champions will be in the crowd tonight watching Randy Sandy of New York City and Germany's Franz Suzina tangle in a 10-round middleweight bout.

Free-swinging Randy is a 7-5 favorite over the aggressive Teuton in the nationally televised bout (NBC-10 p.m. EDT).

The former champions are here for a pre-fight testimonial to welterweight titleholder Carmen Basilio, who battles Sugar Ray Robinson for the middleweight crown Sept. 23.

Suzina, 27, of Bremen, has fought 16 bouts in this country since 1956. Overall, the German has a record of 40 victories, 18 defeats and 13 draws.

The 26-year-old Sandy has a record of 19-6-1. He lost his only two bouts this year to Joey Giardello and Spider Webb.

LEBANON RACES START

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Lebanon raceway kicks off its fall harness racing tonight with an A-B Trot as featured race. The meeting runs through Oct. 5, except on Saturdays and Thursday, Sept. 19, left open because the Little Brown Jug race is planned at Delaware that day. Officials said any overflow of horses will be staged at Dayton, Wilmington and Hamilton and trucked in nightly for racing.

As a result, these racers are cut down and powered with plenty of horsepower. There will be Chryslers, Oldsmobiles, GM Cs, Fords, Mercurys, Thunderbirds, Buicks, Lincolns and Corvettes in action.

Time trials for the race program get underway at 7 p.m. Race time is 8:30

Chisox, Yanks Open Showdown

Double Loss for Sox Would Spell 'Finish'

NEW YORK (AP)—It's Billy Pierce vs. Whitey Ford and maybe a surprise today as Chicago's stubborn, second place White Sox and the New York Yankees, their heroes hurtin', open a two-game showdown for the American League pennant at Yankee stadium.

The Sox, five games behind must sweep these two to stay alive. A split would just be a teaser. A double defeat puts 'em down for the count—this time for keeps.

The Sox have been counted out three times already this season after crucial sets with the Yankees, who lead 13-7 in the season play. But this time, the Sox won't have enough time left for another comeback.

Manager Al Lopez has his two aces well rested for the payoff pair.

Pierce (19-10), shooting to become the majors' first 20-game winner this season, hasn't worked since Sunday.

Stengel figures to throw right-hander Tom Sturdivant, his top winner at 14-6, Saturday while leaving the opener to Ford (9-4), who, like Pierce, is a stubby southpaw.

The Yankees "ace", however, could be a Stengel surprise. It would be just like cagey Old Case to have Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron—his top three RBI men—off the injured list and back in the lineup.

Mantle has quit the hospital and hasn't had too much trouble form his shin splints in batting practice. Berra, nursing a sore thumb, and Skowron, resting a lame back, admit they could play.

Why not? A Yankee sweep—or even a split—would leave Mantle, Berra and Skowron without much to do but stay loose for the World Series.

Richardson Says Wife Goes Too Or He'll Stay Home

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Ham Richardson, America's top-ranked tennis player, issued an ultimatum today that any trip to Australia for Davis Cup competition is out of the question—unless his wife goes with him.

But Davis Cup captain Billy Talbot was equally adamant with a reply to the former national collegiate champion that the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. "will allow no wives to accompany their husbands to Australia."

The issue arose last week during the national championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., and Richardson said he would think the problem over before giving a final decision.

The red-haired Richardson backed up his argument with the top brass in American tennis saying "I can play better tennis when my wife is with me. She is a great asset to me in tennis as she is in all things."

Talbot, the Davis Cup squad's non-playing captain who is also married, said he did not believe it was too much "to ask an American player to spend six weeks away from his wife while representing the United States in international competition."

The Davis cup matches will be held in December.

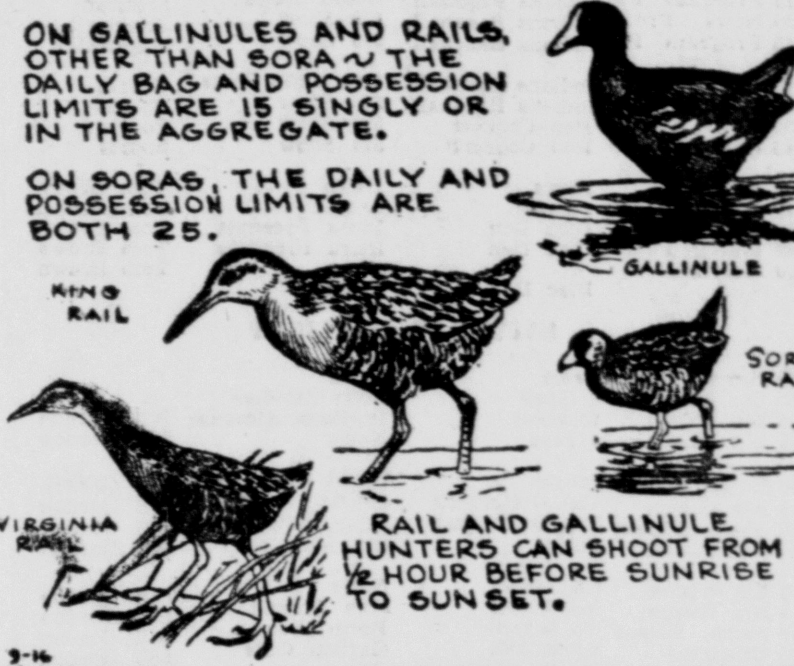

AMERICAN LEAGUE —Williams, Boston, .376; Mantle, New York, .369.
Runs—Mantle, New York, 115; Fox, Chicago, 99.
Runs batted in—Sievers, Washington, 102; Jensen, Boston, 94.

Goshen To Meet Austintown; Fairfield, Greenford To Play

The Goshen Union High school football team will take to the road tonight to battle Austintown Fitch on the latter's field.

The Gophers have 35 members on the team this season, including 10 letter winners from last year's squad which posted a 9-1 record.

Garcia To Seek 5th Straight Victory

BOSTON (AP)—Buried in the second division, the Cleveland Indians and the Baltimore Orioles are locked in a do-or-die struggle for fifth place.

Little attention is being paid the also - rans. The baseball world watched the Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees open a two-game series today that could settle the American League championship.

With nothing left for the prestige of a fifth-place finish—and perhaps Manager Kerby Farrell's job—the Indians will be out to protect their one-game lead over the sixth-place Orioles when they meet the Boston Red Sox tonight.

Mik Garcia, who has provided a few happy moments for the Tribe this season, will be shooting for his fifth straight victory when he takes the mound against young Dave Sisler. Garcia's 10-8 record is his best showing in three seasons.

Ted Williams, who has fractured Indians' pitching with his big bat this season, will be on the bench. He's still feeling weak after a severe chest cold.

NATIONAL LEAGUE —Batt (based on 350 at bats)—Musial, St. Louis, .340; Mays, New York, .332.
Runs — Aaron, Milwaukee, 109; Mays, New York, 105.

North Lima To Open Season

Will Meet Mooney Saturday Night

North Lima's football squad will open its 1957 grid campaign Saturday night when it journeys to South Field in Youngstown to meet Cardinal Mooney.

It will also be the opening game for Cardinal Mooney.

Twenty-seven members make up the North Lima roster this year, including 12 letter from last season's outfit which posted a 6-3 record.

Better Living Recipe

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Did anyone in history except Doris Day set out by railroad from Los Angeles to New York with a husband and a son and only five gallons of ice cream?

Probably not. But Doris—born Doris Kappelhoff in Cincinnati—arrived here with her family intact. But most of the ice cream was gone. Her big favorite en route: Chocolate mixed with hunks of marshmallows and almonds.

Doris, a former dance band singer, recently completed her 21st film, a Warner Brothers movie called "The Pajama Game."

Doris is a breezy girl with freckles. She has vitality, charm, and stirs an air of friendliness. She is fun to interview, from the standpoint of a reporter who had never met her before, because she has the easy adjustment of a $2 bill in a $1 crowd.

It was my idea to ask her, since she seems so untroubled in a troubled world, what was her recipe on how to live better.

"You'll make me look foolish," she protested over a plate of moo goo gey pan at a 2nd Avenue Chinese restaurant called the 'gold coin'.

After she was sure I wasn't trying to stick her with a chopstick, she said these things:

"Most people think that living is racing the clock. I don't."

"I think maybe people should live a little easier, as people seem to do in Paris. Every country has a hint to offer on how to live."

"Such as the idea of taking a nap after lunch. Or like in Japan, where they take off their shoes before they eat and rest their feet."

Doris, who is the uncrowned ice-cream-eating champion of Hollywood, continued:

"I like to sleep 10 hours a night. In our field there are many people with insomnia who worry and worry and still have to get up at 5:30 in the morning."

Doris Day's prescription for insomnia:

"Buy a cat and sleep whenever it does."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

John L. Lewis, unlike Tinkers and Evers, is leaving nothing to chance. At 77 he is empire building again—slowly, methodically and with the certainty of a man who knows he has just another decade in which to operate. He is in fine health—and is giving ulcers, not getting them.

The word is that Lewis, who no longer can paralyze the nation with a coal strike, has developed masterful strategy for a land and sea transport workers' combine which could stall the land.

When coal isn't king, John L. is disturbed. That's why he launched the CIO. His coal union was weak.

COAL USERS were strong. They were the giant steel and automobile industries. So he built CIO to strike steel and auto and remind the industrialists he could shut them down anytime they didn't bring pressure on the mine owners to settle his way.

Now coal is weak again. John Lewis needs a new labor federation which can silence the colossal mills and plants once more.

A powerful transport union could do that. There would be no coal for fuel. There'd be no loading on the waterfronts. There'd be no seaman to sail the ships with trans-oceanic cargo and no trucks to haul steel for cars.

You can label that dream, "The Day the World Stood Still."

IT IS LEWIS' dream. Lowering his voice and disdaining these reports will not alter the story.

Lewis has a time-table. It calls first for the smashing of Paul Hall's Seafarers International Union and the absorption of its members into the maritime units of John Lewis' own Mine Workers.

The battle plans are too complex to detail here. But take it as certain that this assault has begun.

Next Lewis will turn to Joe Curran's National Maritime Union and try to absorb it, too. Lewis believes he will succeed. And he seldom consults anyone else on what he believes he can do alone.

In John L. Lewis' scheme of things this would give him control of the men who take America's ships out to sea. His next step would be to absorb those who load the vessels at the piers.

LEWIS IS in regular contact with the International Longshoremen's Assn. Unless the Longshoremen have changed their minds with the fall weather, they will join the Miners' Union wherever Lewis gives the signal.

That's why John L. lent the dockworkers hundreds of thousands of dollars some years back. With the men who load the ships and the men who sail them merged into his coal union, Lewis could then turn to the Teamsters.

That leonine head would not have to turn far. He could look right across his desk at his Madison Ave public relations purveyor.

This member of the gray-flannel fraternity also handles public relations for Dave Beck and Jimmy Hoffa and company. Lewis could really arrive at the Teamsters' convention amid triumphant roars.

THERE HAVE been conversations between Miner and Teamster officials already. If the Teamsters are expelled from the AFL-CIO, they could be John Lewis' junior partners overnight.

They would need Lewis, his eminence, his flair for drama, his prestige in financial circles and his hatred of George Meany.

If Lewis controlled the waterfronts, the Teamsters would need him for far more than that and a haven, too.

The Teamsters would not be unaware of his power. A waterfront strike could cripple the Teamsters, by backing up thousands of trucks and clogging far more warehouses and railroad depots with cargo bound for the holds of our merchant and pleasure fleets.

If you do not think Lewis dares to do all this, you have not covered his strikes which browned out a war-time nation. He never did hurt the fighting nation but he did give it the jitters.

WITH A TRANSPORT combine in his miners' federation he would be the chief, "The Champ," as the delegates to his conventions loved to call him.

He could face the giants with a federation of more than 3 million in every strategic field.

He had far less when he launched the CIO in the thirties. But Lewis has now what he didn't have then—vast funds. The Miners and the Teamsters could pool a cool 100 million dollars. And there'd be millions more left in the locals.

This is what the great thunder has been discussing, during these moments of silence. It is the calm before his storm.

For John L. Lewis, the paths of glory still lead to the Mine Workers headquarters.

'Superman' Almost Gets Grounded at Airport

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Superman almost got grounded.

Appearing here in support of the state highway safety program, George Reeves, who portrays the cartoon character on television, failed to confirm his airline reservations and lost his seat to Reading, Pa. Thursday.

One of Gov. O'Neill's secretaries managed to get Superman airborne again by finding Reeves an airplane seat.

RETURN OF POWER URGED

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), in an address before the Ohio Trade Executive Assn. here Thursday, urged a reduction of federal authority and a return of power to state and local governments. He said the federal government specifically should relinquish authority in grants in aid to education and power developments.

That leonine head would not have to turn far. He could look right across his desk at his Madison Ave public relations purveyor.

23-Year-Old Man Charged with Fraud

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A 23-year-old Springfield man, accused of posing as an Air Force cadet to defraud the government, is being held in Montgomery County jail at Dayton today.

Held in lieu of $4,000 bond is William Vincent Wadsworth, charged by the FBI with perpetrating a fraud against the government and impersonating a Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) cadet lieutenant.

E. D. Mason, special agent in charge of the FBI's Cincinnati office, said Wadsworth used an ROTC uniform and phony ROTC credentials to gain access to facilities at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. Wadsworth also used the credentials, Mason said, to hitch an airplane ride to Bolling Air Force Base in Washington, D. C., in May.

Wadsworth used the uniform he received when he was a student at Ohio State University, the FBI said. Mason added that Wadsworth never was an Air Force officer and did not graduate from Ohio State.

Playhouse Producer Sued for $25,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Julie Gibson, a cabaret cutie who makes a piece de resistance of peeling off parts of her dancing costume, is asking $25,000 from a summer playhouse producer because he said she was "not sexy enough" for a sultry role.

That statement was slander, Miss Gibson contended in a suit filed in U.S. District Court here.

Michael Ellis, producer at the neighboring Bucks County Playhouse, admitted saying it, but added: "I don't think it is slanderous to say somebody isn't sexy. My mother isn't sexy."

Miss Gibson was hired to play the Jayne Mansfield part in a production of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" and was replaced a few days before the play opened Monday night.

Brown's Vote Breaks Tie in Favor of Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has cleared the way for 15 Republican candidates to run for office in Fredericktown Nov. 5.

Nominating petitions for the 15 were submitted 50 minutes after the Aug. 7 deadline, but Knox County Common Pleas Court allowed the names to stand on the ballot because the deadline, it ruled, is not mandatory.

The Knox County Board of Elections voted whether to appeal the court decisions, but the vote ended in a 2-2 tie. Brown's vote broke the tie in favor of the court.

Brown said he voted to keep the names on the ballot, not because he agrees with the court ruling, but because an appeal would hold up printing the ballots. He said time is "of the essence" in getting the ballots printed for armed service and absentee voters.

1,236 Civilian Workers To Be Cut From Payroll

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Officials at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near here announced Thursday night at least 1,236 civilian employees will be dropped from the base payroll on or before Oct. 31.

Officials said the cut is in line with a recent defense department order to reduce civilian manpower at military bases by 5 per cent beginning next year.

The payroll loss to Dayton will be about $6,000,000 a year, authorities said. The present civilian payroll at the base is $121,000,000 a year.
